

ABOUT

One time I misspelled the word Abanca on Google and, by mistake, I ended up searching for Anancastia. It was a crush at first sight.

To be anancastic is to have a type of personality that reaches for perfection at all times. It is living with a high degree of expectations for yourself.

Ananke is a greek Goddess that personifies the compulsive and the inevitable. When I take a photograph, I often repeat the take as many times as I need to in order to be satisfied with the lines, illumination and other composition elements.

When I take a photograph I think of Ananke and I smile to myself, because I found her by mistake.
